Biography

Nathalie Du Pasquier

Nathalie Du Pasquier is a French artist and designer based in Milan. A founding member of the Memphis collective, she played a key role in redefining the aesthetics of postmodern design in the 1980s. From the late part of the decade onwards, she gradually turned her focus to painting, developing a visual language that interweaves architectural forms, graphic patterns, and imagined objects into bold, striking compositions.

Her collaboration with Mutina, which began in 2019, stands as one of the most significant intersections between contemporary art and ceramic surfaces. Together with the company, Du Pasquier has developed projects such as Paesaggi, Mattonelle Margherita, and Brac, bringing her unmistakable visual world into the realm of ceramics.

Her work is held in major international public collections, including the Centre Pompidou (Paris), The Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York), Victoria and Albert Museum (London), San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, Philadelphia Museum of Art, The Art Institute of Chicago, among many others.

Coppie di Fatto

Details of Coppie di Fatto

"These simple vases kept us thinking for a long time. It seemed like a simple idea: Coppie di Fatto, a vase made of two elements that can be placed upright or flipped. A vase for flowers or a bowl for biscuits, depending on how they're positioned. They must always be presented as a pair to reveal their dual function. And that is the first part.

I don't know why it took us so long... At one point, we only had one vase per pair, so it wasn't really a couple anymore... It became a different project. In fact, it also became another project: single vases that we immediately decided to make black. They weren't even vases anymore, but rather mysterious objects, solitary, like Etruscan relics unearthed intact from a hole in a field, parts of an engine whose function we had forgotten.

Presenting them lined up works, because they are precious. So far, these are the pieces we've found in that field north of Fiorano, and perhaps we'll discover more.

And these are the second and third parts of the DI FATTO project".

Nathalie Du Pasquier

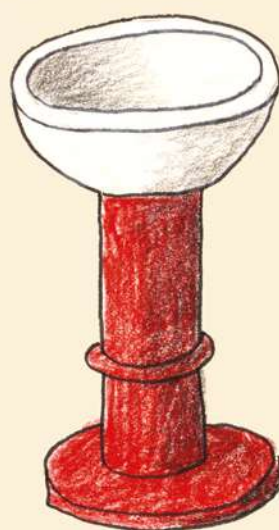

Coppie di Fatto is a collection by Nathalie Du Pasquier that plays with duality, function, and form. Composed of handmade ceramic pieces that exist in pairs, the objects shift in meaning depending on how they're positioned—vases become bowls, containers flip and transform. The collection includes two series: one features seven colourful, open-edition pairs with playful geometries and spray-glazed finishes; the other consists of seven matte black pieces made with the ancient immersion technique, offered in limited editions. Each of them is signed, numbered, and entirely handcrafted according to Italian ceramic tradition.

Authenticity

Each piece is signed and stamped sequentially to emphasise the exclusivity of the production.

The Editions are collections of ceramic objects entirely handmade according to the Italian craft tradition. Developed by the designers and artists of the Mutina team, each piece is signed and stamped sequentially to emphasise the exclusivity of the production. The Editions are, in fact, unique creations destined to last over time and to reach, one by one, every corner of the world.

They offer furnishing accessories designed for interior decoration, combining the authenticity of craftsmanship with a contemporary look and feel. They are exclusive artistic objects, reflecting the creative approach of their authors and bringing out the iconicity of the brand.

With Mutina Editions, the company kicks off a new phase in its path of enhancing the ceramic material in line with the brand's quality standards. Small imperfections testify to the authenticity of the craftsmanship.
